Item 3.01. Notice of Delisting or Failure to Satisfy a Continued Listing Rule or Standard; Transfer of Listing.

Terran Orbital Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the “Company” or “Terran Orbital”), maintains warrants that are currently listed to trade on the New York Stock Exchange (the “NYSE”) under the symbol “LLAP WS” (the “Warrants”). Each Warrant is exercisable for one share of the Company’s common stock, par value $0.0001 per share (the “Common Stock”), at an exercise price of $11.50 per share. On August 21, 2024, the NYSE notified the Company, and subsequently publicly announced, that the NYSE has determined to (a) commence proceedings to delist the Warrants and (b) immediately suspend trading in the Warrants due to “abnormally low selling price” levels pursuant to Section 802.01D of the NYSE Listed Company Manual. The Company has until September 5, 2024 to appeal the NYSE’s determination with respect to the Warrants.

The delisting procedures for the Warrants will not affect the trading in the Company’s Common Stock, which will continue on the NYSE under the symbol “LLAP.” Continued trading of the Company’s Common Stock remains subject to the Company’s ability to regain compliance with the continued listing standard set forth in Section 802.01C of the NYSE’s Listed Company Manual prior to the expiration of the previously announced six-month cure period on December 17, 2024, unless otherwise extended until the Company’s next annual stockholder’s meeting, and continued compliance with the NYSE’s other continued listing requirements. Furthermore, delisting of the Warrants is not anticipated to impact the ongoing business operations of the Company, our previously announced merger transaction or the Company’s reporting requirements with the SEC.

Additional Information and Where to Find It

This communication may be deemed to be solicitation material in respect of the proposed acquisition of Terran Orbital by Lockheed Martin Corporation (“Lockheed Martin”). In connection with the proposed transaction, Terran Orbital intends to file with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) a proxy statement on Schedule 14A. “outlook,” “will,” “should,” “could,” “scheduled,” “forecast,” and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements. There can be no assurance that the proposed transaction or any other future events will occur as anticipated, if at all, or that actual results will be as expected. These statements are not guarantees of future performance and are subject to risks and uncertainties. Actual results may differ materially due to factors such as: the failure to obtain, delays in obtaining, or adverse conditions contained in any required regulatory or other approvals for consummation of the proposed transaction, the possibility that Terran Orbital stockholders may not approve the proposed transaction; the failure to consummate or a delay in consummating the proposed transaction for other reasons; the occurrence of any event, change or other circumstance or condition that could give rise to the termination of the merger agreement related to the proposed transaction; Terran Orbital’s business being disrupted due to transaction-related uncertainty; the diversion of Terran Orbital’s management’s or employees’ attention during the pendency of the proposed transaction Terran Orbital’s ongoing business operations and other opportunities; the failure to successfully and timely integrate Terran Orbital and realize the benefits of the proposed transaction; the risk of litigation relating to the proposed transaction; competitive responses to the proposed transaction; unexpected liabilities, costs, charges or expenses resulting from the proposed transaction; and potential adverse reactions or changes to business relationships from the announcement or completion of the proposed transaction. These are only some of the factors that may affect the forward-looking statements contained in this news release. For a discussion identifying additional important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those anticipated in the forward-looking statements, see Terran Orbital’s filings with the SEC, including, but not limited to, Terran Orbital’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2023, filed with the SEC on April 1, 2024, its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2024 filed with the SEC on August 12, 2024, and the prospectus supplements dated September 18, 2023 and July 23, 2024, each related to its Registration Statement on Form S-3, as amended (File No. 333-271093), which was declared effective by the SEC on April 18, 2023. Terran Orbital’s filings may be accessed through the investor relations page of its website, www.investors.terranorbital.com or through the website maintained by the SEC at www.sec.gov. Except where required by applicable law, Terran Orbital expressly disclaims a duty to provide updates to forward-looking statements after the date of this communication to reflect subsequent events, changed circumstances, changes in expectations, or the estimates and assumptions associated with them. The forward-looking statements in this communication are intended to be subject to the safe harbor protection provided by the federal securities laws.
